Three Easy Magic Spells

Lucky Talisman

Talismans are believed to attract good fortune into our lives. Lucky charms are also called Talismans and they come in many forms.

Sometimes they are made of metal such as gold, silver and other precious metals or in the form of herbs or other botanicals.

Talismans may also be made by writing sacred words on natural paper using natural or botanical inks.

As the Talisman is a magickal tool, remember to charge, cleanse and consecrate it before using it. A talisman is worn on the body or carried in a special charm bag.

Ojala is a sacred Spanish word that was derived from the word "Insha -Allah" which means "God Willing". This word has become a powerful Amulet in South America. The more you believe in it, the more powerful the word gets.

On a piece of natural paper or cloth, write down the following while focusing on your desire:

O J A L A
O J A L
O J A
O J
O

Fold this paper/cloth carefully and insert it into a locket or a silk bag to carry around for good luck. When you touch this amulet, visualize your goal being manifested in your life.

Magic Box Spell

Magick boxes are considered auspicious or sacred for people who believe in them.

If one charm has power, imagine how much power rests in a collection of such charms! The power of the charms becomes concentrated and enhanced. Never create a magick box and ignore it. Open it periodically and play with its contents.

Absorb their power and carry some with you always remembering to have a lucky number of charms in the box, usually seven.

Seven is considered to be the number for miracles and fortune. To create your own magick box of charms, find seven of the following and put them in a handmade box or one made with natural substances such as paper, wood, etc.

Old wooden boxes that belonged to your loved ones are the best!

1. Shamrock or four-leaf clover (or a similar charm)
2. High John the Conqueror

3. Low John the Conqueror
4. Piece of fool's gold or a small piece of real gold
5. A tonka bean
6. Small magnetic horseshoe
7. Lucky herbs such as Galangal, Vanilla bean, Black snake root, Lucky hand root, Vetiver, Mandrake, ginseng
8. Old Keys
9. Lemon Zest
10. Myrrh
11. Pentagram
12. Lucky gemstones or pendants such as Jade, Jasper, Aventurine
13. Charms that represent any of the above items

Fruits of Love Spell

From ancient times, fruits have been used to seduce lovers. Most popular fruits used for this purpose include Apricots, pomegranates, quince, apples and figs.

To attract a lover, find the most perfect specimens of the above fruits and arrange them on an attractive plate or bowl. Offer the tray of luscious fruits to the target of your spell. If s/he eats the fruit, they will be yours.

If they decline, do not despair. Leave the fruit bowl near them and continue the conversation.
